

AMERICA, AFTER TWO HUNDRED YEARS!

By Dan Price *

You've come a long way, USA
You are still a free land today
Tho you've seen so many bloody wars in your past
Your freedom light burns true, through the years it will last....

It is your birthday of over 200 years
A celebration that will be quite dear
Altho there were times of fear
Lives died for you and many shed a tear

But Old Glory still waves
You gave freedom to the slaves
You are a democratic land
Giving a chance for each man....

You are a fruitful land of much
We are blessed by God's touch
Tho we sway casually away
America land, let's never forget God or the need to pray....

A land of industry and progress
You have passed so many tests
The time of Red Coat days and pioneer times
The Civil War, world wars, aid to the needy in waiting lines

Time has brought a modern fast pace
Man on the moon, explorations in space
Medical finds, scientific discoveries, a land of haste
But a land working together to solve problems,
Included those of each race.....

America, before you blow your birthday candles out
Make a bright lasting wish and prayer, then don't doubt
As Americans cheer and give a big shout
Let's work together to be a land with people
Proud of a land so talked about!

 Published in 1976. Printed 2010 by permission from D. Price
We still need to seek the LORD for peace in America!

2 Chronicles 15:15 CEV "Everyone was happy because they had made this solemn promise, and in return, The LORD blessed them with peace from all their enemies."

www.momentswithmary.org

“AMERICANS, TO YOU WHAT HAS SHE MEANT?”

By Dan Price

Here is this land free to men
It is a Land that is our friend
It is the 50 United States that stands
It has reached out and took so many by their hands
It is painted with beauty everywhere
A land where there are those that still care

It waves our flag so proud
The colors Red, White and Blue, they have a right to be loud
Our land was sown by our fore fathers seed
Freedom that cost, but a land that grew with speed
A land that still keeps God in view
He will continue to guide if to Him we are true

Progress has brought so much treasure
Discoveries to help further thus land without measure
From the time they signed those documents with their quill
That land has flourished, and it never stands still
From Pilgrim days to our present time
It has cost the lives of many to keep America in the freedom line

There is a need to unite in prayer
So God will show us and keep us in His care
Each State holds its' own story
Each proudly flies our Old Glory
A land that faces uncertain times
But there is still hope for all mankind

Americans, let us not lose our respect
But be willing always to protect America has come too far
So let's hold her up, don't let her be marred
It has paid in lives that are ever lost
Let's keep her up for she's paid the cost

So let our freedom light burn
As we go forth and learn
Let each Fourth of July be a special event
Americans, pause and think, to you, what has she meant?

Published in 1976. Printed by permission 2010 by D. Price.

2 Chronicles 20: 9, 27-29

www.momentswithmary.org

“SWEET FREEDOM!”

By Mary Mayko 2005

The liberty of our spirit simply soars
With blessings as He opens our prison doors!

His Blood has made us pure and free
So stand firmly in your faith for all to see!

Bold, yet humbly walking without guilt or shame
Obeying, serving, thankful in Jesus' Name!

What joy arises from the peace we have within
O! Sweet freedom from the bondage of sin!

Freedom to live for Him who died for me
To do His Will gladly, to be all He wants me to be!

How sweet to walk with Him each day
And trust His leading along life's way.

How thankful for His mercy and His grace
O! Sweet freedom His love to embrace!

Galatians 5:1 “Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherein Christ has made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.”

www.momentswithmary.org email: mmako1968@msn.com